Cranes Removable Wallpaper (Two Panels)

This stunning Cranes Removable Wallpaper was inspired by Japanese traditional hand-paint Byobu (gold silk folding screen) and the union of landscape and fauna typical of Ukiyo-e art.

The form of the Crane, often referred to as the 'Bird of Happiness' and good fortune in Japanese culture, soaring regally amongst the gilded clouds, is a design intended to showcase both the beauty of the art style and the majesty of the Japanese crane.

An exclusive designer self-adhesive wallpaper is unlike nothing else on the market. A large scale, exotic and monumental bird design that will create the most beautifully enthralling interior. Nothing says lux and glamour like this Japanese wallpaper. Available in 4 glamorous colour-ways.

To determine whether Removable Wallpaper is the right choice for your project, please ensure you read through our FAQ's prior to ordering.

How to determine the number of wallpaper panels you need

1. Measure your walls – make sure you have an accurate measurement in inches of height and width of the portion of the wall you'll be covering. Sometimes it helps to draw a rough sketch to use while you do your calculations.
 2. Determine the number of panels you'll need across your wall. Our removable wallpaper panels are all 24" wide. Once you have the width of your wall in inches, take the width and divide by 24. This will give you the number of tiles that you will need horizontally. Remember to always round up!
