SHIBORI

Welcome to the Exclusive wallpaper collection from Sydney studio Shibori, created by Pepa Martin and Karen Davis. A boutique textile agency, renowned for pushing the boundaries of this ancient Japanese craft. By exploring and modernizing old techniques on modern fabrics the pair injects a strong design element into their work making an old craft new again.

Shibori is a Japanese dyeing technique that typically involves folding, twisting or bunching cloth and binding it, then dyeing it in indigo. A very vast technique and there are tons of ways to do it (and a truly infinite number of patterns you can create). This luxurious designer wallpaper collection of rich indigo hues mixed with beautiful patterns are simply irresistible.

Their beautiful line of Shibori wallpapers brings a rich hand-dyed feel to walls and adds a huge dose of deep color. From the simple stripes available in indigo, grey, pink and green, to the intricate, natural geometric shapes of the stars and diamonds.

The subtle fabric texture creates a layered and cosy feel that is achieved through the hand crafted nature of the collection. A simply stunning collection of designer wallpapers that are the perfect fit for bathrooms, bedrooms, hallways and anywhere else that your heart desires.

How to determine the number of wallpaper panels you need

1. Measure your walls – make sure you have an accurate measurement in inches of height and width of the portion of the wall you'll be covering. Sometimes it helps to draw a rough sketch to use while you do your calculations.

2. Determine the number of panels you'll need across your wall. Our removable wallpaper panels are all 24" wide. Once you have the width of your wall in inches, take the width and divide by 24. This will give you the number of tiles that you will need horizontally. Remember to always round up!
