Painter's Glasshouse Collection

ART. GARDEN. PATTERN.

Painter's Glasshouse is a fresh, light and versatile collection that balances elegant simplicity with understated luxury. Inspired by the atmosphere of an artist's studio surrounded by nature, the collection brings together painterly landscapes, decorative botanicals and structured patterns designed to layer effortlessly within interiors.

Impressionist influences, heritage textiles and traditional glasshouse architecture shape the designs throughout the collection. Hand painted florals, trailing vines and woodland scenes bring movement and artistry, while stripes and geometric repeats echo the rhythm of glasshouse panes, tiled floors and garden frameworks.

Large scale murals create immersive moments across the wall. Expressive botanical prints introduce colour and character, while smaller geometrics and decorative stripes bring balance and versatility.

Painter's Glasshouse celebrates the meeting point of art, craft and nature, translating these influences into patterns that feel creative, elegant and timeless.

Impasto Meadows Mural

Impasto Meadows is a painterly mural wallpaper inspired by Impressionist landscape painting and the nostalgic beauty of rolling countryside scenes. Sweeping brushstrokes of colour build layers of hills, trees and sky, creating a richly textured composition across the wall. Named after the impasto technique where paint is applied thickly to create depth and movement, the design captures the expressive gestures of the artist's brush. The result is an immersive mural that transforms the wall into a landscape filled with colour, movement and atmosphere.

Pear Tree

Pear Tree is a vibrant botanical wallpaper featuring fruit laden branches, blossoms and playful floral details. The design brings an orchard inspired pattern to the wall through bold shapes and expressive colour. Painted in fresh flat tones, the pattern carries a Scandinavian clarity and echoes the look of traditional screen printing. The carefully considered repeat allows branches and fruit to align across the wall, bringing structure and rhythm to the overall pattern.

Willow Wood

Willow Wood is a toile inspired woodland wallpaper influenced by the intricate storytelling of 17th century Jacobean embroidery. Hand painted trees, winding foliage and woodland details unfold across the design, creating an illustrative pattern with a gentle storybook character. Painted with an intentionally imperfect hand, the design sits over a soft textile inspired texture that echoes the look of embroidered fabric. This layered approach brings depth and richness to the wall while celebrating the decorative traditions of heritage craft.

Moonflower

Moonflower is a botanical wallpaper inspired by the moonflower from the morning glory family. Trailing blooms and curling vines wind across the design, forming a gentle pattern of softly flowing lines. Intricately hand painted, the design draws on the character of vintage botanical illustrations. Its smaller scale allows the wallpaper to work beautifully across entire rooms or layered with larger patterns.

Palette Stripe

Palette Stripe is a painterly stripe wallpaper inspired by the expressive movement of paint across canvas. Broad vertical stripes sweep upward through the design, capturing the gestures of the artist's hand. This hand painted stripe is intentionally left with a hand drawn feel for an artisanal finish. Named after the palette knife used to mix and apply paint, the pattern echoes the textured sweep of the tool and its painterly style across the wall.

Cow Parsley

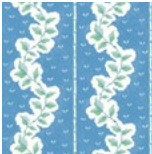

Cow Parsley is a larger scale floral wallpaper that celebrates the wildflowers found along country lanes and hedgerows. Tall stems rise through the pattern as delicate blooms and foliage spread across the design. Influenced by Art Nouveau composition, the pattern balances organic form with graphic structure. Flat colour treatments and bright retro colourways bring playful nostalgia and a lighthearted sense of charm to the wall.

Rosette

Rosette is a small scale horizontal stripe wallpaper featuring deconstructed flowers and winding vines arranged in a decorative repeat. The design draws inspiration from classic garden details and ornamental motifs found in traditional architecture. Its smaller scale allows the wallpaper to layer easily within interiors, adding decorative movement while complementing the collection's larger botanicals.

Sundial

Sundial is a geometric wallpaper inspired by Victorian floor tiles and the symmetrical forms of traditional garden sundials. Bold shapes radiate outward to form a confident repeating pattern. Graphic and structured, the design introduces an architectural element to the collection while maintaining its decorative character.

Silk Road

Silk Road is a hand-painted decorative stripe wallpaper that weaves foliage and pattern into a richly detailed design. Leaves and floral motifs flow through the stripe, giving the pattern movement and texture. The design references the historic Silk Road trade routes that carried luxurious textiles between East and West. Inspired by 18th century silks and the celebrated fabrics of Spitalfields, Silk Road brings a refined textile quality to the wall.

Wicker

Wicker is a small scale geometric wallpaper inspired by woven basket textures and traditional rattan patterns. Interlacing lines create a repeating structure that brings subtle texture to the wall. Hand painted details soften the geometry of the design while maintaining a clean decorative repeat. This makes Wicker an ideal companion to the collection's expressive florals and botanicals.

Flower Patch

Flower Patch is a vintage inspired floral wallpaper featuring delicately drawn wildflowers arranged in neat squares like garden tiles. The pattern creates a subtle checked layout across the wall, bringing botanical charm and gentle structure to the design. With a nostalgic mid century feel, Flower Patch evokes memories of warm, sunny days at your grandparent's allotment. The illustrated flowers bring character and detail, while the grid arrangement introduces a playful balance between nature and pattern.

Pergola

Pergola is a large scale foliage stripe wallpaper inspired by the climbing greenery of garden trellises and pergolas. Leaves and stems rise vertically through the design, forming a pattern that reflects the structure of garden frameworks. Painted in a flat decorative style that echoes artisan screen printing, the pattern gradually reveals its stripe as it repeats across the wall. The result is a design that balances botanical movement with architectural rhythm.
