The Tailored Garden Collection

The Tailored Garden explores the balance between structure and softness, where classic garden motifs are shaped with precision and intent.

Ribboned florals, structured trellises, painterly botanicals, and considered stripes unfold across a palette of sun-washed blues, blush, sage, and butter. Each pattern is designed to bring rhythm and clarity to a space, balancing decoration with discipline.

Created for interiors that are layered with purpose, the collection reflects Kim Scodro Interiors' approach to design: spaces that feel composed, personal, and enduring. Patterns are developed to move seamlessly across wallcoverings and textiles, giving you the freedom to build rooms that feel cohesive and complete.

The Tailored Garden invites you to design with intention, pairing timeless references with a distinctly contemporary point of view. Every surface becomes part of a considered whole, shaped by your vision and realised through craftsmanship.

Colette

Colette is a refined botanical wallpaper that brings a sense of structure to floral design. Delicate motifs are arranged in a balanced repeat, creating a pattern that feels both decorative and composed. The design introduces softness through its detail, while maintaining clarity through spacing and scale. This allows Colette to sit comfortably across a space, whether used as a feature or layered with complementary patterns.

Elise

Elise is a tailored stripe with a decorative edge, combining vertical structure with intricate detailing. Subtle ornamental elements are woven into the stripe, softening its form while maintaining its architectural presence. This balance allows Elise to introduce height and rhythm to a space, while still offering visual interest up close. A versatile design that works effortlessly as both a feature and a foundation.

Salomone

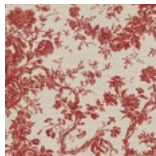

Salomone is a richly layered pattern that combines traditional influences with a contemporary sense of balance. Interwoven motifs create depth and detail, while a controlled palette ensures the design remains composed. This is a statement pattern that still feels considered, bringing character to a space without disrupting its overall harmony.
